NUIT BLANCHE'S GREATEST HITS

1 Casa Loma: Stables — The mix of dance and projection left visitors spellbound. And haunted. Please revive this performance for Halloween.

2 What Will You Do? — Global warming-themed billboard was neither condescending nor dull. SMS responses both amused and provoked.

3 Distillery District — The naturally cinematic confines of the historic compound were made for nights like this.

4 Traces — It was just a regular night of drinking and socializing at the Rex Hotel. But Adad Hannah's strategically placed flatscreen TVs showed subtly moving tableaux of a parallel event in the same space. Funny and surreal.

5 ThunderEgg Alley — Artist Swintak had an undeniable hit on her hands. Who knew so many would clamour to spend 10 minutes with strangers locked inside a dumpster hotel?
